Thank You

Congressman James T. Walsh of New York's 25th District for your support of the National Science Foundation (NSF).

NSF is the major federal agency that supports research and education in the sciences, engineering, and mathematics.

Scientific discoveries are the life-blood of technological invention and research supported through the NSF has time and again underpinned a new technology, product, or method.

These technologies, products, and methods have led to multi-million dollar industries, have helped create jobs, and have contributed to economic prosperity and to national security.

NSF supported science helps us to better understand our planet and provides a scientific framework for decision-making.

The NSF is good for New York and for the Nation.

Sponsored by the Coalition for National Science Funding (CNSF), an alliance of over 95 professional societies, universities, and corporations advocating support for the National Science Foundation.
